

ner of Missouri and Council Bluffs. This proposition was withdrawn. My opinion is that this matter of the termini and route of the road will of necessity be left to the discretion of the President, and there I am willing to leave it. General Pierce has no personal interest in it. He represents no local interest, but the interest of the whole Union is in his keeping. So much for the railroad.

I have been called by Col. Benton and his friends a Nullifier, a Disunionist, a Secessionist, &c. To these charges I plead not guilty, and I have often called for the proof. I defy Col. Benton or any of his friends to put their fingers upon any vote that I have given; one speech that I have made, one act that I have done to sustain their charges. My approval of and signature to the Southern address is offered as evidence of the charges above alluded to. That address contained nothing but a narrative of grievances inflicted by the North upon the South by their legislation and otherwise. This was all, a very large majority of all the Southern men then in Congress signed that paper, and among them appear the names of the most illustrious Statesmen and purest patriots of the South. At the head of the list stands the name of William R. King, our late lamented Vice President, who was voted for and sustained for that high office by the very men who condemn me. I could mention others who hold the highest places of honor and trust in the Government, who signed that paper. Fellow citizens, I will give an outline of my remarks in writing to Mr. Park for publication in his excellent and useful paper, that my opinions on the topics discussed to-day may distinctly be understood and recorded. I have too long trespassed on your time and will conclude by thanking you for the patient and attentive hearing you have given me, and my thanks are especially due to the ladies who have honored me with their presence on this occasion.

CHERRY PECTORAL, For the rapid Cure of COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

Many years of trial, and of improving the public confidence in this medicine, has won for it an appreciation and notoriety by far exceeding the most sanguine expectations of its friends. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues and the unmatchable benefit conferred on thousands of patients, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community, have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures so numerous and so remarkable to be forgotten.

While it is a fraud on the public to pretend that any one medicine will infallibly cure—still there is abundant proof that the Cherry Pectoral does not only as a general thing, but almost invariably cure the malady for which it is employed.

As time makes these too's wiser and better known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the sick, and, from the log cabin of the American Peasant, to the Palace of European Kings. Throughout this entire country, in every State, city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, Cherry Pectoral is known as the best remedy extant for diseases of the throat and lungs, and in many foreign countries, it is coming to be extensivly used by their most intelligent Physicians. In Great Britain, France and Germany, where the medical sciences have reached their highest perfection, Cherry Pectoral is introduced, and in constant use in the Armies, Hospitals, Almshouses, Public Institutions, and in domestic practice, as the surest remedy their stanching Physicians can employ for the most dangerous afflictions of the lungs. Also to infirmaries, and for children it is safe, pleasant and effectual to cure. In fact, some of the most flattering testimonials we receive have been from parents who have found it efficacious in cases particularly incidental to childhood.

The Gastric Pectoral is manufactured by a practical Chemist, and every ounce of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, consequently can be relied on as genuine without adulteration.

We have endeavored here to furnish the community with a medicine of such intrinsic superiority and worth as should command itself to their confidence—a remedy at once safe, speedy and effectual, which this has by repeated and countless trials proved itself to be; and trust by great care in preparing it with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, to afford Physicians a new agent on which they can rely for the best results, and the afflicted with a remedy that will do for them all that medicine can do.
